GILLIE PARK PLAYGROUND REPLACEMENT PROJECT

The City of White Plains will begin a playground replacement project at Gillie Park, located at Gedney Way and Mamaroneck Avenue during the week of August 31st. The entire existing playground will be removed and replaced. Renderings of the new playground are attached.

The project is expected to be finished by late October / early November, depending on weather. A ribbon cutting will be planned for the fall, after the project is complete. We look forward to connecting with the adjacent neighborhood associations about this event.

Please note: This project will cause a temporary closure of the playground. However, the end result will be a brand new playground which can be enjoyed for years to come. We ask for your patience and cooperation over the next 8-12 weeks as we build you a great new playground.
